Outcomes

Having clear goals: understanding what government is trying to achieve, across what time period, for whom We support the Government and agencies to understand and drive system performance.

Understanding impact

Ensuring robust measurement of the impact of what we do

We can advise on how best to use a wide range of sources to track and monitor impact and effectiveness.

We advise on challenging social sector issues to improve peoples' lives.

Who and where Understanding
where there are opportunities to improve outcomes

We use a wide range of information sources to understand the needs of people and the complexity of their lives, ensuring that perspectives of those disproportionately impacted by negative social outcomes are meaningfully incorporated.

We can advise on where and how to make considered and fiscally responsible investments that align with government priorities and achieve improved social outcomes. What works What services and programme work for whom and when

Drawing from a wide range of evidence, evaluations and other data, we maintain and build a respository of 'what works'.

We provide the infrastructure and tools to enable govt and community to share and use data safely.

Enabling infrastructure and tools